THE HANDS OF SHANG-CHI, MASTER OF KUNG FU®

TEMPLE OF BLOOD!

The trouble with most air guns is they're too big for smaller kids to handle.

That's why we make the Crosman® 788 BB Scout—the only pump-up BB gun designed especially for younger shooters.

The BB Scout is only 31 inches long and weighs less than 3 pounds. But just because it's our smallest air gun doesn't mean we cut down on the features. It's got a solid-steel barrel, rugged metal receiver and adjustable rear sights like our bigger Crosman air guns.

Which means that now, instead of having a little fun with a gun that's too big, you can have a lotta fun with a gun that's just right.

A LITTLE CROSMAN IS A LOTTA FUN.

*Part of being a kid
is owning a Crosman.*

Crosman®
Air Guns

A Cabela's Company

Protect your valuable gun. Insist on Crosman Super BBs®.

Air guns must be used under adult supervision.

"Call me Shang-Chi, as my father did, when he raised me in the vacuum of his Honan, China retreat. Since then, I have learned that my father is Dr. Fu Manchu, the most insidiously evil man on earth...and that to honor him would bring nothing but dishonor to the spirit of my name.

GUMFIGHTING DO'S AND DON'TS.

The first thing to do—pick the right chew: new Hubba Bubba®. The soft and juicy bubble gum with amazing no-stick bubbles™. Then proceed with this simple yet effective gumfight drill: (1) Begin blowing bubble. Note Hubba Bubba's incredibly large bubble. (2) When the Hubba Bubba bubble breaks do not be alarmed. (3) Simply remove Hubba Bubba from your face. That's right, simply remove and replace in mouth. Return to step 1. Repeat drill ten times.

THE PROPER STANCE.

YOUR SIZE IS NOT IMPORTANT.

The size of your bubble is. And that means choosing the right bubble gum — Hubba Bubba. Because when it comes to great, big, fat bubbles, nothing sizes up to a Hubba Bubba bubble.

ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES.

This boy did. And now instead of wearing a smile, he's wearing a paper bag over the bubble gum stuck to his face. Definitely not new soft and juicy Hubba Bubba Bubble Gum. Does Hubba Bubba really work? Absolutely! Hubba Bubba is gumfighter tested and approved.

DADGUM MY BUBBLEGUM!

So pick up a pack of new Hubba Bubba in original or mint flavor. Enjoy that soft, juicy, delicious taste. Plus those great, big Hubba Bubba bubbles that won't stick to your face.

SOFT. JUICY. DELICIOUS.

BIG BUBBLES, NO TROUBLES.

If you want a motorcycle for Christmas, do your homework.

Here's your first assignment. Prove to your parents that you're old enough to own your own bike. How?

Show them that when it comes to taking on responsibility of any kind, you're not a kid anymore. Because kids don't ride motorcycles.

Now, a good place to start (other than cleaning up your room), is learning what kind of bike to ask for. You'll be glad to know that Kawasaki has the right mini motorcycle for every rider starting out. We're here to tell you about all of them, so you can tell your parents.

Good luck.

KD80M

If you want to play in the dirt, start on the KD80M. Dad will like the price, you'll like everything else. It comes with a 5-speed transmission, a 79cc 2-stroke engine, and primary starting, so you can start in any gear. There's no premixing oil and gas, our Super-lube injection takes care of that.

KV75

This 3-speed trail bike is great for beginners. The KV75 has an automatic clutch, which means no clutch lever to bother with. And it goes everywhere with the family. Just fold down the handlebars, and stick it in the back of the car. (It won't leak gas or oil on the way.)

KDX80

Here's a dirt bike of another color. Lime green, like the KX80 mini, its racing cousin. The KDX80 has a motocross frame and suspension, leading axle front forks, and a 16" front wheel to handle rough ground. The engine is an 82cc 2-stroke reed valve.

KM100

You're ready to ride the streets. But you don't want to give up the dirt. Then the KM100 is your bike; it can handle both. And the 99cc 2-stroke rotary valve engine goes a long way on a tank of gas.

$499*

*Manufacturers suggested retail price for the KD80M or the KV75, excluding freight, dealer prep, title and taxes. Offer valid only while supplies last. Available in U.S. and Canada. Prices slightly higher in Canada.

Kawasaki believes in riding safely. Check local laws before you ride. Member of AMA, MIC, and MSF. Specifications subject to change without notice.

Don't let the good times pass you by.

I HAVE RECEIVED A RADIO REPORT FROM THE CONVOY, MY DAUGHTER, SHANG-CHI AND BLACK JACK ARE ON THEIR WAY HERE. WE MUST BE PREPARED FOR THEM.

AND THE CONVOY ITSELF, CELESTIAL FATHER?

IT IS INTACT, FAH LO SUEE, AND SHOULD BE ARRIVING AT THE AIRSTRIP NOW...

"...LOADING MY 'SEEDS' ABOARD THE PLANE FOR LIMA AIRPORT, THENCE INTO SEPARATE FLIGHTS FOR THEIR HOME COUNTRIES... ALL OF WHICH SHALL THEN SUFFER INFILTRATION UNDER MY DIRECT ELECTRONIC CONTROL..."

"INDEED, THERE SHALL SOON BEGIN A MASSIVE, WORLDWIDE WAVE OF SABOTAGE AND TERRORISM FROM WITHIN."

TIME TO SPRING THE TRAP, LEIKO-DARLIN-- GIVE ME THREE MINUTES.

RIGHT--I'LL APPROACH THEM FROM THE SIDE.

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Bear with me, gang. It's philosophy time again! I was having a discussion the other day with a professor pal of mine from U.C.L.A. about the so-called "generation gap," and I laid a few personal opinions on him that I'd like to share with you.

First, we're never gonna solve the generation gap till we stop seeking the wrong answers to the wrong questions. Every-one yaps about young people being "different" nowadays. Forget it! Human nature doesn't change. It's the human condition that changes—it's the environment! What's happened to us is, the world has been wildly changing, producing new sets of rules each time you blink your eye. It's the social climate that's been changing, not you 'n me, Bunk!

Here, this'll show what I mean. Say you've got two homes, a large country estate and a small city apartment. You play your stereo full blast on your estate, but who cares? No one can hear it. You're not disturbing anyone. But play it just as loud in your small apartment with the paper thin walls and your neighbors wanna clobber you! You haven't changed. You're the same yoyo in both places. But the conditions are different!

The fact is, young people are the same as ever, the same noisy, scroungy, mangy, nutty, wonderful crazies they've always been — and adults are still the same grouchy, grunchy, goopy, hard-pressed and harassed heroes they've always been — and which you'll soon become! Nothing's changed but the labels. Which leads to point #2 —

None of us is all that different from each other. We all want essentially the same things outta life — a measure of security, some fun, some romance, friendship, and the respect of our contemporaries. That goes for Indians, Chinese, Russians, Jews, Arabs, Catholics, Protestants, blacks, browns, whites, and green-skinned Hulks. So why don't we all stop wasting time hating the "other" guys. Just look in the mirror, mister — that other guy is you!

Excelsior!

Doug,

"A sort of horrible expectancy claimed me..."

"You are not suggesting, Sir Denis," I asked, "that we are up against Dr. Fu Manchu?"

Oh, you ARE? NEAT!

I just finished an article I was assigned to write for a quirky little fanzine called HEROINES SHOWCASE. It's about Leiko Wu, and in preparing my mind for the task I had to reread every issue of MASTER OF KUNG FU which featured Leiko, and try to see events from HER viewpoint. The result was very interesting, to say the least. I'll send you a copy of the zine when it comes out, but in the meantime I want to let you know that I think I'm finally beginning to understand your use of juxtaposition as a technique. Whether this is conscious or unconscious, I don't really know, but it certainly stands out once one knows what to look for. It seems that every character has a "double" and every event is somehow echoed in another event. (Juliette betrays Shang, Anna betrays Black Jack Tarr; Leiko picks Shang's lock, Reston picks hers...etc.) If this is all done "on purpose," you are to be congratulated; if it is "accidental," you can consider it a spin-off of the basic yin/yang theme of the book. I tend to think it's all intentional - but then, I won't know unless you tell me, will I?

Doug says that the "juxtapositions" and "foreshadowings" are indeed intentional, Cat, and he's gratified that more and more readers seem to be noticing these small touches. Of course, not all of the "couplings" and "leit-motifs" are always so subtle, but for a while it seemed that even the most overt instances were escaping most readers - or at least escaping comment. But while the device is intentional overall, you're also somewhat correct in your surmise about the felicitous yin/yang nature of writing MOKF. For instance, while most of the juxtaposition echoing is deliberately contrived for effect, often the very contrivance itself will lead to other unforeseen echoes of rhythm and event. These are the magic moments in writing, when the barely imagined and glimpsed pieces of the jigsaw puzzle suddenly and splendidly fall into place before the writer's eyes. These are unplanned moments which, somehow, somewhere in the mind, HAD to be planned. There is a small amount of awe to be felt, and sometimes the swift spread of gooseflesh. And while these instances are pleasant (albeit spooky!) surprises, the writer is always quick to reshape his material so as to take full advantage of the felicity. So yes, Doug is quite deliberate about most of the writing gimmicks, and aware (as far as he knows) of all of them.

By the way, for another example of this sort of thing, Doug highly recommends the latest novel by one of his favorite writers: THE SIXTH COMMANDMENT by Lawrence Sanders. Read the book from cover to cover - if you've got the time, it'll demand a single brekneck sitting - and then go back to reread the first 6 or 7 pages. The foreshadowed echoes of the book's ensuing theme are supple, slender, and subtle - but stunning.

Finally, we're glad to hear that Leiko has finally become the object of some serious study. We've always felt that she's one of the better and more complex characters currently featured in comics, and after combing through a half-dozen articles about "Women in Comics" - which seem entirely devoted to Red Sonja, Ms. Marvel, Wonder Woman, and other flashy females - we were frankly beginning to despair that anyone else had even NOTICED the low-key Ms. Wu.

Gentlemen:

I would like to congratulate Shang-Chi on three rather exceptional feats, if you don't mind.

1) Shang-Chi has duplicated the miracle of Dr. Strange, i.e., surviving the loss of a truly exceptional creative team and the onslaught of inferior artwork to eventually return to the very top of the medium. In Dr. Strange's case, it was the transition from Thomas/Colan/Palmer to Englehart/Brunner/Giordano. In Shang-Chi's case, it has been Moench/Gulacy to Moench/Zeck. I have waited too long for this revival in quality, and I certainly hope it lasts longer than the other three teams I've mentioned.

(Aside to Jim Craig: Dr. Strange's "inferior" artists included Pertini, Russell, Hunt, and - believe it or not - Starlin. Exceptional artists all, on other work - so don't quit yet!)

2) Shang-Chi is the ONLY non-super hero to succeed commercially (let alone artistically) for any appreciable length of time in decades. Five and a half years and still monthly!

3) Only Ghost Rider has been around longer as a solo star without going back to the early sixties for examples. The Ghost Rider being a borderline series (how DOES he hang on for so many years as a bi-monthly?), that makes Chi next to Daredevil, for Pete's sake, in age and longevity! (Sorry, Roy, but the Barbarian is a lot older than ANY Marvel hero!)

Just thought you guys would like to know how remarkable these facts are. Continue the rising and advancing of Chi's (and my) spirit.

Dear People,

Congratulations upon the good fortune of acquiring the inimitable talents of that highly competent artist, Gene Day.

While his inking ranks among the very best, adding depth, movement, clarity, form as well as detail and a certain feel of presence often lacking in comics, it would be advisable to bear in mind that Gene is a proven artist and writer in his own right.

He is well known to collectors and to those who consider the comics form a true art. A comparison of the splash pages of MOKF #'s 77 & 78 will demonstrate why.

We wholeheartedly agree, Thomas, and it seems - knock on wood! - that we've finally found our "permanent ink" in Gene Day. We couldn't be more pleased.

NEXT ISSUE: Gene Day inks again! Mike Zeck pencils up a storm! And Doug Moench collapses over his typewriter! Be here!
